

2021 Side-by-Side Concert Application Information

The New World Symphony, America's Orchestral Academy, is pleased to offer advanced instrumentalists an opportunity to participate in its virtual Side-by-Side mentorship week. On this occasion, student musicians will receive one-on-one training with New World Symphony Fellows, developing a collaborative musical working relationship as they prepare and perform orchestral works of the highest caliber. Student musicians will also participate in online workshops and have the opportunity to perform in one of three virtual Town Hall Master Classes. These auditions are open to advanced string, woodwind, brass, piano and percussion students, grades 7-12. All instrumentalists selected will be engaged in Side-by-Side mentorship activities and the pre-recorded performance.

Application Deadline:

The application deadline, which includes the audition video is Friday, February 12, 2021, at 11:59 PM ET. No late applications will be considered. Students who participated in the 2019 Side-by-Side Ensemble must apply and submit an audition video in order to be considered.

There will NOT be a pre-screening round for this year's virtual program.
